

Assume the Earth to be a uniform, solid sphere. A thin tube is drilled along a diameter of Earth and a small particle is allowed to fall through it. Solve for the motion of this particle. How does this compare with the motion of the same particle if it orbits Earth just above Earth's surface?