If a pebble were dropped down the elevator shaft of the Empire State Building ($h = 1250$ft), what would be the deflection due to the Coriolis force? Assume no air resistance.